ABSTRACT:

The World is badly affected by the pandemic conditions, where hundreds of lives are lost every day. The modern man is locked down during the past two years. The Corona-19 pandemic has badly influenced the all sorts of life. It damaged the social system, where many families were totally collapsed. It has affected the family relations. The woman was also badly stricken by the pandemic conditions. She has to carry the whole family on her shoulder during the Corona pandemic. All men were locked down, the daily income was influenced and the woman from every house has to face the challenges of food and medicines of the family. She was tested during the Corona pandemic. In this research paper, the researcher will discuss about the sufferings and challenges before the woman during the Corona-19 pandemic. The present research paper is written with the research methodology of MLA 8 style sheet.

INTRODUCTION:

The Corona-19 pandemic has taught lot of challenges to the World regarding the life and its various aspects. Everybody was unknown to the pandemic conditions, where the immediate outburst of the Corona has locked the people of the World. The conditions has been changed and many challenges stands before thousands of the unemployed workers families. The pandemic lockdown has created unprecedented challenges before rural households from India. Not only the men, but also the women were badly suffered the daily routine life. The daily wages and livelihood has incapacitated due to the pandemic situations. It was very harsh lockdown, where the veins of the society were iced down. The working hands were immediately emptied and the conditions hammered the lower strata of the Indian society.

A study by the Azim Premji University in May of this year documents that fully 230 million Indians slipped back into poverty due to the impacts of the pandemic and resultant lockdown. This reversed years of gains in pulling people up from poverty into the middle class as gainful employment opportunities vanished in the wake of the lockdown. (Subramanya)

This report is the true picture of the Indian society, the rural India was forced into the valley of poverty. Not only the working class but also the middle class living with the small scale business was badly suffered.

Apart from this, the woman from all layers of the society was poorly suffered. In every family, woman playing the central role. She is the sole caretaker of the elders as well as the children from the family. As it is all-time found that, "You can't make your husband serve you or care for you-but you can focus on helping him, and more times than not, that action alone will prompt him to serve and to care. Even if it doesn't it will...unleash a great spiritual adventure in your own life" (McMenamin 10). It is the place of every woman in the family, where she always stands before the life and actions of her husband, or the son. She also supports the attitudes of her father in form of the daughter. Throughout the Corona crisis, every woman strongly stands before the conditions of every male in the society. She was not only the care taker of the family but also worked as the inspirational, booster dose for every man. As it is found that, the sacred marriages and sacred influences among the every Indian family, it was found that she strongly stands behind her husband for fighting with the pandemic situation.

On the other hand, the sufferings of the woman was very heartrending during the Corona pandemic waves. It is also found that,

Home was a space of safety, trust and self definition. However, during the lockdown this space was invaded by men who constantly attempted to take over the running of the household as they deemed fit, meddling with the housewives' control over it. This, combined with an increase in domestic violence, contradicts the women's understanding of home and confronts them with paradox of simultaneously being in control and yet being marginalized. (Tripathy, et al. 12)

It was another challenge before woman during the lockdown. Without any work, the 24 hours presence of the husband, son and all males in the home has struck the routine life of the lady in the home. Now, she has to take extra care of all males in the home during the lockdown. She lost her independent space and always ready to spent her time in kitchen. Even though, she was emotionally as well physically exploited by the husbands in the home. It was very difficult time for the woman during the lockdown.

The economy of the country was collapsed down. The outbreak of the second wave had damaged the economic policies of India, where thousand workers were lockdown. "The country's GDP contracted to negative 24.4% in the second quarter of 2020 due to nationwide lockdowns. The contraction improved to a negative 7.4% in the third quarter of 2020 as the government modified the policy responses" (De, et al. 16). This unemployment phase during the second and third wave not only hammered the economy of the country, but also hammered every house's economy. Due to the lack of money and work, all en shattered down. They have no work and has extra time to spent in the home. This situation has influenced to break the social strata of the Indian society. In this conditions, the woman was badly suffered and exploited by males. The loss in Indian economy damaged the feelings and emotions of the women during the Covid-19 various waves.

Nevertheless, the woman was badly smacked during the pandemic situation, but on the another side she stands very strongly to protect the country. All the nurses, lady doctors and women employees strongly sacrificed their crucial time in their concerning premises. The inspirational stories of the women during the lockdown are kind examples of great humanity.

Women supporting entire villages as they navigated the health crisis, spreading awareness, and serving as community lifelines and frontline workers throughout the crisis. Many made difficult choices to keep households afloat, like providing family meals with fewer supplies—at times going without food themselves to ensure children were fed. Some withdrew precious savings to pay for household supplies, food and medicine, as well as internet packages for children's continued education, where many also had to provide instructional support. (Berg)

It is the ground research, where many women sacrificed their crucial days for nourishing the society. Even though, many mother-workers left their infants in the home and worked for 24 hours continuously in the houses. The nurses and lady doctors has strongly accepted the challenges during the pandemic and proved themselves as the real nationalism and mothers spirit. The woman was became more strong during the lockdown and whole world saluted her for the great sacrifice.

CONCLUSION:

Hence, the Indian woman was hardly tested by the Covid-19 pandemic. She has proved herself on all the platforms of life. She was successful to show the true and kind heart of the mother for everybody, though she has different titles like wife, sister, assistant, and nurse. The presence of the woman in every field has increased the healthy atmosphere among the various agencies. Her leadership was experienced by the Covid-19 pandemic

Though women's leadership demonstrated in these times of crises offers valuable lessons on their capacities for resilience, women's voices need to be formally included in local decision-making bodies for crisis management and women's work needs to be recognized and compensated adequately, with necessary precautions taken to ensure their occupational safety and health. (Rukmini)

This is very crucial research, where the woman is in need of help. She need the assurance regarding the safety and security during the challenging time of the life. She is always ready sacrifice herself for uplifting of the country, but she is in need of respect and equal position in all fields of life. Yet, she is aside from the major streams of the contemporary society. She is ready to prove herself like the male in every field, but till the male dominated mentality is not permitting her to fly freely in the sky. Let her fly freely in the sky and give her equal opportunities to prove her caliber in every walk of life. Definitely, she will take the country as well as the World on the top of the success. She can give the birth to you and me, it means she is able to change the globe. Just release her from the sight of womanhood and free her to fly in the free, unlocked blue sky.
